VOLUME XXII

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1912.

NUMBER 8

ELECTION CALLED

County Judge G. A. McCormick Renders Decision Saturday.

Trial Lasted Several Days and Created Great Deal of Interest.

After hearing testimony beginning Monday and lasting until Friday afternoon, and taking the matter under consideration until Saturday afternoon, County Judge G. A. McCormick granted the petition of J. P. Highland and 1042 other citizens of Montgomery county asking for a local option election September 30th.

The contest for the entire week was a bitter one, much feeling being shown on both sides, and while the "drys" are jubilant and are confident of victory, the "wets" claim that the Court of Appeals will not let the election stand, claiming that in three precincts the original petition did not, after the withdrawals had been made, have the 25 per cent. they claim is necessary before an election can be called. The "drys" claim that the petition could be amended by adding new names in place of those stricken off and that they added enough to bring their list up to the number required by law.

Aged Man Dies.

Mr. Wm. Shanahan, aged 70 years, died at the home of Mr. Wm. Canan in this county Sunday morning of infirmities incident to old age. Some ten years ago this man came to Mr. Canan and has been making his home with them ever since. He had no relatives and for the past few years has been able to do no work but out of sympathy Mr. Canan let him continue to live with him. Funeral services were held Monday and burial in St. Thomas Cemetery.

New Boarding House.

Mrs. John W. White will open a boarding house in the Games property on Main street September 2nd. Her table will be first-class and her rates reasonable. She will be glad to have your patronage.

BASE BALL POSTPONED

Between Banker-Printer Nine and Post Office Force

Will Positively Be Played Today (Wednesday) at 3:30 O'clock.

The game between the Banker-Printer nine and the team representing the Post Office bunch will be played today (Wednesday) at League Park, game called at 3:30 p. m. This game is for the benefit of the local ball players and will undoubtedly be the most interesting ever played in this city. Both teams have been practicing hard for the contest and a bitter fight is assured. Don't fail to attend, admission 25c, ladies 15c. Every spectator who witnesses this game is guaranteed an afternoon of enjoyment or money refunded.

Mr. Peter F. Evans Victim of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Peter F. Evans died at his home on Richmond avenue, in this city, last Tuesday evening, after a long illness of Bright's disease. Until a short time ago Mr. Evans was a member of the real estate firm of Hadden & Evans, and was well known to our citizens as an excellent Christian gentleman, having become a member of the Christian church when he was sixteen years of age. A number of years ago he was a noted turfman and a driver of considerable note.

He is survived by his wife and three daughters, Misses Marguerite, Martha and Emma.

The funeral services were held at his late residence Thursday morning, conducted by Rev. H. D. Clark, and burial in North Middletown cemetery.

Mr. Evans was 63 years of age and up to the time of his fatal disease was one of this city's most popular and prominent business men.

To his sorrowing family we extend deepest sympathy.

Let Sutton & Son furnish your home, then you will have the BEST. It will cost more elsewhere.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Miss Iva B. Tuggle Shoots Herself At Home of R. D. Parsons.

Young Woman Thought to Have Been Mentally Unbalanced.

Miss Iva B. Tuggle, fourteen years of age, committed suicide Sunday afternoon by shooting herself through the heart with a 32 hammerless pistol at the home of Mr. R. D. Parsons on South Sycamore street, where she had been visiting for the past two months. It is thought the young woman was mentally unbalanced from constant reading of light fiction.

Miss Tuggle, whose home was in Winchester, was bookkeeper for Todd Bros. Grocery Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons had gone to Camargo in the afternoon, leaving the young woman at home with Mrs. Parsons' father, Mr. Frederick. The girl seems to have planned carefully all the details, as she refused to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Parsons; had written a long note to Mrs. Parsons saying "Life's burden is too heavy, I am ready to die," and saying what disposition she wished made of her body, and several requests of her family.

The young woman was found by Mr. Frederick, who heard the shot and summoned help, but death had been instantaneous.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Julia T. Britt, and several brothers and sisters, of Winchester, and her aunt, Mrs. B. H. Coyle, of this city, all of whom have the sympathy of their many friends.

Funeral services were conducted at the home of Mr. Parsons Tuesday morning by Rev. Dr. Carrell, pastor of the Baptist Church at Winchester, and burial in Machpelah Cemetery, this city.

New Furnishing House.

The United States Clothing Co. will open a gents' furnishing house in this city within the next month at the old Guthrie Clothing Co. stand on the corner of Main and Maysville streets. Mr. W. P. Guthrie has accepted the position as manager of the new company and Mr. Henry P. Reid will be his first assistant. The new company will put in a first-class line and invites the buying public to inspect their goods and prices.

Mr. Guthrie has an enviable reputation as a clothing man, and the new concern is indeed fortunate in securing his services. He is now in Greenville, Ala., arranging his business and expects to return here the latter part of the week. Mr. Guthrie's many friends will be glad to see him return to this city.

With such men as Mr. Guthrie and Mr. Reid in charge, the new concern is sure to be a success from the start.

Successful Operation.

Matt, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Rogers, was taken to Lexington last Thursday in Mr. Leslie McCormick's automobile, accompanied by his father, sister Miss Ola, and Dr. P. K. McKenna, where a successful operation was performed for appendicitis. The little fellow is getting along nicely and will soon be able to return home.

FATAL SUMMONS

Miss Mary Dee Sullivan Dies After Six Weeks' Illness.

Bright and Popular Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Sullivan.

It was on Thursday morning, August 22, 1912, that the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Sullivan, claimed their beautiful daughter, Miss Mary Dee, and, departing, took her soul to the God who gave it. Miss Sullivan had only been sick about six weeks. Death was thought to have been caused by a fall which she received some time ago, causing spinal trouble.

She was born December 11, 1890, thus being in her twenty-second year. Her suffering had been intense and death came as a sweet relief. Everything known to medical science was done to restore her to health, but to no avail.

The funeral service was held at the residence of her parents, Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. D. Clark, and burial in Machpelah Cemetery.

It is so sad, it seems strange and hard to understand, when the Maker and Ruler of the Universe sees fit to call home a young woman who has just reached her maturity, just when life is at its sweetest and the very air seems laden with the perfume of sweet scented flowers.

Miss Sullivan had been a member of the Presbyterian Church since she was twelve years of age and had ever lived a noble Christian life. A lover of home and home life, not caring for the world and its gayeties, she was always ready to answer her Master's summons.

The many beautiful floral designs which were strewn over her grave were evidence complete of the high esteem in which she was held by her countless friends.

Thus a beautiful life has been brought to a sad and abrupt close, and though her body will moulder in the tomb, her soul still lives, and the memory of Mary Dee Sullivan will never be dimmed.

Sweetly sleeps her frail but beautiful body, until on "That Day," she shall arise to greet the resurrection morn, and her awakened eyes once more be gladdened with an exquisite scene—a scene made ineffably glorious by the risen bodies laid beneath the sod by loving hands to await the dawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan have the sympathy of the entire community in the loss of their beautiful daughter.

Making Good.

Mr. Warren Cline, of Falls Mill, Va., is visiting his parents in this city. Mr. Cline has been connected with Walton & Co. a railroad construction company for the past nine years and now holds a very fine position with them, his many friends will be glad to know that he is doing so well.

SPLENDID RACING

Will Be Seen at The Lexington Track This Week.

Some of The Largest Stables In The Country Represented.

On next Saturday Fall racing will begin in Kentucky and the lovers of the sport will begin to enjoy themselves. A large number of horses have been in training in Lexington all summer and many car loads have been shipped in from other racing points. The meeting will be one of the largest ever attempted by the association and the stakes and purses have been made especially attractive. The grandstand has been repainted, new stables built, in fact everything has been done that could be done to make the place attractive both to the horse owners and the racing public.

Competent men are in charge and with good weather a most satisfactory meeting is being looked forward to.

If you have any job printing you want done in a hurry, let the ADVOCATE do it.

Team Takes Brace.

During the past week the team representing Mt. Sterling in the Blue Grass League has been playing splendid ball. Tuesday they defeated Paris in two splendid played games of ball, the first by the score of 4 to 3 and the second, by the score of 6 to 5. Knight pitched the first game and Friedly the second. Thursday Burr pitched a double header against Maysville and should have won both but for rank umpiring. Sunday the locals defeated Paris in a splendid game by the score of 3 to 1. Friedly pitched a magnificent game and allowed the Bourbonites but 2 hits.

If you want to see good base ball don't fail to see every game during the balance of the season.

The following games will be played on the local grounds this week: Paris, Monday; Lexington, Tuesday, and Paris, Saturday.

Monday's game was won by the locals, score 7 to 3. Burr pitched a beautiful game for the home boys, while Dunlap was hit hard.

LUTHER MURPHY

Returns Home Monday After Giving Bond at Pineville, W. Va.

Says People Should Withhold Judgment Until All Facts Are Heard.

Mr. Asa Murphy, of Ezel, Ky., came here Monday, accompanied by his brother, Luther Murphy, from Pineville, Wyoming Co., W. Va., having arranged a bond for the latter's appearance there at the next term of the Wyoming Circuit Court, where he stands indicted, with John M. Adams of this county, on the charge of obtaining property by false pretenses.

Mr. Murphy says the newspaper articles which have appeared in the local papers, laying all blame on him, were evidently inspired by some one in an effort to shield himself, that while he is being prosecuted, a warrant issued many weeks ago by Gov. McCreary on a requisition for Adams from West Virginia, for some unknown reason has never been executed, although the latter is now and has been for weeks at his home in this county, that he (Murphy) is innocent of the charge and asks the public to suspend judgment until the facts are all brought out at his trial.

FILTER PLANT.

Being Installed by Contractor And Large Force of Hands Will be in Use by Nov. 1 Next.

The plans for the new filter plant of the Mt. Sterling Water, Light & Ice Company having been approved by the State Board of Health, as required by law, work was commenced by the contractor and thirty men Tuesday and it will be pushed as rapidly as possible until completed. Under the contract, the filter is to be in use by November 1, 1912, and is to be one of the most up-to-date filters in the country. With this filter, Mt. Sterling will then have a water system of which its citizens may feel justly proud.

MORE SUNLIGHT IN THE HOME

Sun's Rays God's Own Microbe Killer.
Germicide, Disinfectant and Sickness Healer.

Fresh air enthusiasts are familiar enough to most of us, but we hear less of enthusiasm for light. Darkened sick-rooms are too common. Sir B. W. Richardson, the eminent London scientist and physician, declared that when the professors of healing enter a sick room their first words in most cases ought to be Goethe's dying exclamation, "More light! More light!" The light of the sun is God's own microbe killer, germicide, disinfectant, prophylactic, sickness healer. There is no physical, no chemical antidote, no compounded prescription to be compared with sunlight. Without it nature could not perform her functions. Man, beast, bird, insect would fall victims to the deadly gases that would prevail. The horrid mists and deadly gases are dispersed and decomposed by the action of light. Let it in, everywhere! Let the light in more and more abundantly. Faded carpets are not as pitiful as faded cheeks. Spoiled cushions are trivial compared with spoiled health. Darkened rooms are too suggestive of darkened lives.—Christian Herald.

FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS.

Lord Roseberry in a London address on tuberculosis said that preventive measures had reduced the mortality from consumption in London by 83 per cent. between 1901 and 1909, and by 14 per cent. in England and Wales for the same period. Nearly forty thousand lives were saved which would have been lost under the average conditions of the decade of 1871-1880.

Nature's Irony.

One of the present favorite subjects for journalistic and oratorical brainstorms, and one which can be counted upon to do service in all classes of society, before all sorts of audiences, and with all degrees of eloquence, from solemn warning to terse invective, is the so-called masculinizing of our women by granting to them many of the economic and political privileges of men. Shades of Darwin and Huxley and Pasteur, and all the long succession of wise and patient teachers who have labored to instill into the public mind a rudimentary knowledge of the laws of biology and evolution! It has taken uncounted ages to differentiate the sexes; it would take uncounted ages more to unsex humanity. It is the possibility of variation in the offspring which sex brings about and the survival of those most suited to their environment that has made progress possible. It is the division of the labor of maintaining and transmitting life that has made progress as rapid even as it has been. Through all the past, since life first sprang upon the earth, there has been evolving this wonderful device for creating unending possibilities of growth; and now, in a century marked, more than by any other form of human effort, by scientific thought intelligent people really believe that changes in human customs and the institutions of civilization, man-made and transient as all man-made customs are, can decrease to an appreciable degree the difference of sex. Of course, there are many unfortunate accompaniments of modern industrial life and modern modes of living which make a woman a weaker and poorer human being, and so less efficient and attractive as a woman—a fact which is equally true of men. And, of course, there are unwomanly women; there have been shrews since time was. But, contrary to the general belief, the opening of the professions to women does not create masculine women; it merely segregates them. Instead of being forced into the unwelcome production of more people like themselves, they can lead self-respecting and useful lives outside of matrimony. Could a more ingenious device be contrived for the elimination of a type? So nature is not mocked, but takes its steady and inevitable course in spite of the ardent and even passionate efforts of its well-meaning defenders.—Collier's.

The Need of Success.

Many voters who are progressive and favorable to two out of the three large organizations plan to vote the new party ticket, even when they rather prefer to have the Democrats win this time; their idea being that Wilson will be elected anyway, while the new party needs all the strength it can get. This particular argument, it strikes us, should be reversed. The Bull Moose is sure to prove such strength in November that it will be permanent and reduce the old Republican party to a condition in which it will rapidly disappear. Indeed, it is extremely likely that the Bull Moose party will find itself in better condition if it almost wins in November than if it actually wins. Many of those who are most enthusiastically supporting it feel that its start will be healthier if it is a party of opposition for at least four years. The great Democratic party, on the other hand, is hanging in the balance. If Wilson is defeated it will become a party of reaction. If he is successful, both at the polls and in his Presidency, it will be swung the other way, and will be one of the strong forces making for progress.—Collier's.

Brother of Late J. M. Bigstaff Dies Near Newport.

Major Samuel Bigstaff, who was the youngest brother of the late James M. Bigstaff, of this city, died at his home at Ft. Thomas, near Newport, Sunday, August 18, after a short illness of intestinal trouble. Major Bigstaff was a son of the late Dr. O. S. Bigstaff and was born in Bath county in 1845. At the age of sixteen, while preparing for college, he ran away from home and joined the Confederate Army, enlisting in the command of General John H. Morgan. He was taken prisoner at the battle of Snow Hill and sent to the old Newport Barracks, now a city park, as a prisoner of war. He was later exchanged.

Shortly before the close of the war he married Miss Alice Webster, eldest daughter of F. M. Webster, at that time one of the leading attorneys of Kentucky. He engaged in the iron business and continued in it until the great panic in 1873. He then began the practice of law and continued until the summer of 1883, when he launched into public enterprises and became a promoter with much success. He built East Fourth street in Newport, the first to be constructed by private enterprise, and then laid out what is still known as Bigstaff's addition to Newport. This proved to be so successful that he gave up the law entirely and engaged in the real estate business.

He is survived by his widow and two children, Miss Maggie and Frank Bigstaff; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Hinde, of St. Louis, and a brother, Richard Bigstaff, who resides in Bath county.

PUZZLES FOR THE FISHERMEN

Nature is Playing Queer Pranks on the Fishing Grounds Off Massachusetts.

The otter trawler, Ripple, which with two sister boats reached T wharf this morning, ran into immense shoals of herring ninety miles southeast of Highland light. The herring were not the ordinary isolated school of a few thousand fish, but a whole collection of schools. The fish were large, too, and they judged that a netter could have made a year's stake all at once if all the fish could have been rounded up.

To back up this story the Ripple had physical proof that nature is playing strange pranks on the fishing grounds. The steamer brought in a sturgeon, one of the largest ever landed at the dock, and as far as could be learned the first specimen ever landed here in midwinter. Dressed, the sturgeon weighed 175 pounds, but as caught with head, tail and fins it tipped the scales at over 400 pounds. Sturgeon, like mackerel, is a warm weather fish, and just what this old fellow was doing out in freezing weather was a matter of conjecture. With a fresh sturgeon in and herring sighted in the offing T wharf wouldn't have been surprised this morning to have heard that mackerel were schooling in the Frog Pond.—Boston Globe.

"The Thirty and Nine;" Or, Why Stop With One?

By JOHN B. M'FERRAN, Chairman Educational Committee, Louisville Commercial Club

II.

LOOKING at our educational problems from a business standpoint, we have been turning too much to what is called higher education. I am myself a believer in higher education. I mean by that the universities, colleges and high schools and would not detract from their importance in the least, but they are already liberally provided for far in advance of our common schools.

We are told by the United States bureau of education "that more than two-thirds of our boys in the United States leave school before the end of the eighth grade;" "that the average length of a boy's schooling is less than six years, and this school training before the ages of twelve to fourteen years, while the boy is too young to appreciate his loss;" "that less than one boy in four completes the grammar grades and but one boy in eight goes any further with his schooling;" "that only one boy in forty of those who enter the first year of high school completes the course in high school, public or private, or goes higher;" "that of all boys twelve to fourteen years of age who should certainly be in school less than 60 per cent are there."

From the Sage Foundation fund's reports we are told that of 100 boys who enter the first grade only fifty-five enter the fifth grade, only twenty-seven are left in the eighth grade, six in the high school and one to enter college; that only 5 per cent of the males in the nation are fitted by definite educational training for their occupations or vocations.

These facts are given on high authority, and when we remember that they apply to the country at large and that Kentucky is probably below this average, is it not lamentable? IF ONLY ONE BOY IN FORTY COMPLETES THE HIGH SCHOOL COURSE IS IT NOT VERY IMPORTANT FOR US TO GO MORE STRENUOUSLY AFTER THE OTHER "THIRTY AND NINE?"

I think at present we, educators and all, are following the old trend of looking too exclusively toward the higher education. I think our legislative bodies have illustrated this when four years ago they made it mandatory on every county in the state to build a high school within two years. There was little mandatory concerning the poor, small schools scattered throughout the counties. These "thirty and nine" poor devils will have little chance to get within sight of a high school at all, but must plod along as best they may.

It is true the same legislature allowed the fiscal court to levy a tax of 20 cents on the $100 for school purposes in each county. It is also true that many of the counties levying this tax have used it largely in establishing a high school at the county seat or some other town, which is unfair to these "thirty and nine" who do not get to the high school.

I DO NOT WISH TO BE UNDERSTOOD AS OPPOSING HIGH SCHOOLS OR HIGHER EDUCATION—I AM IN FAVOR OF BOTH TO THE LIMIT—BUT I AM COMPLAINING THAT ONLY ONE BOY IN FORTY SHOULD HAVE THE LION'S SHARE OF THE FEAST INTENDED FOR ALL. I THINK THIS SHOWS CLEARLY THE NEED OF MORE MONEY FOR OUR SCHOOLS, SO THAT ALL MAY HAVE A FAIR SHOW.

There is, I think, another mistake that ought to be corrected as far as possible, and that relates to the pay of teachers by location or with reference to location. The cities and large towns and wealthier portions of the counties have the pick of the teachers because they pay higher salaries and the environment generally is more attractive. Thus the back districts in the counties (where there are generally more children) are compelled to get along with the cheapest and poorest teachers. These teachers, as a rule, have the minimum salaries. Now, I hold that these "thirty and nine" out in the back districts for good results need the best teachers or at least as good as the best.

This condition can be met at once by the county boards supplementing the salaries of teachers in the poor districts out of the county funds. Such action would bring immediate relief. WHY WAIT ONE YEAR OR TWO YEARS FOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION WHEN THERE IS A TEMPORARY WAY OUT OF THE DIFFICULTY PENDING IMPROVEMENT IN LEGISLATION? Think of the uplift given to the citizens of another generation even by a single term of schooling! Is it not little short of criminal to fail to apply a remedy when it is within our power?

If we cannot get funds enough for both high schools and "low" schools, is it not better to use sufficient of the county fund in this way than to put all or the bulk of it in a city or town high school which the "thirty and nine" can have but little hope to enter? Would not these "thirty and nine" by reason of their improved intelligence through these better teachers in time force the building of high schools for all?

NEWSPAPER THE BEST.

"In planning any systematic advertising campaign one of the first steps is a selection of the best medium, which, naturally, is the one reaching the greatest number and most desirable class of people at the least proportionate cost. This requirement is fully met by the newspaper, which affords any concern dealing directly with the people the quickest and proportionately a very cheap method of getting in touch with the greatest number."—R. F. Adams.

MOTHER GOOSE REAL PERSON.

Mother Goose was a genuine personage originally known as Elizabeth Foster. She was born in old Charleston, S. C., and resided there until her marriage with Isaac Goose, when she became stepmother to ten children and went to live in Boston. To entertain her charges Mrs. Goose used to invent stories in prose and verse, and these were, in course of time, collected by a Boston printer who married one of her stepdaughters. They were published in 1719 with the title, "Songs for the Nursery, or Mother Goose's Melodies for Children." The book proved a huge success. Mrs. Goose died in 1757.

JOKERS IN LOCAL OPTION LAW.

The present local option law was carefully dissected last week and several jokers were found artfully concealed within its legal phraseology. First, the provision requiring twenty-five per cent. of the voters in each precinct, instead of the entire territory to be affected, was unearthed; then the provision requiring the petition to be filed at one term of court and continued until the next to ascertain whether any petitioner had changed his mind, was found and lastly it was discovered that it is not a violation of the law to purchase a man to sign the petition or withdraw after he had signed it, the law of bribery only covering the purchase of a voter to vote or not to vote at an election. As the signing or withdrawing from a petition is neither procuring one to vote nor not to vote at an election, the statute does not include it.

Secretary Bennett, of the Republican State Campaign Committee, has sent a list of questions to every County Chairman in the State, including "Are there any members of the Republican County Committee supporting the third party; if so, how many and who are they?"

This question may prove embarrassing here where at least one member is also a member of the Bull Moose Committee.

In order to show Mr. Taft has a chance to win, Republican National Chairman Hilles has published a list of States he says Mr. Taft will carry, which includes Kentucky. If his claims in the others are as unfounded as in Kentucky, Mr. Taft's chances of success are slim, indeed.

Change in Mail Service.

Mr. H. M. Lockridge has received notice from the First Assistant Postmaster General as follows:

The Post Office appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, provides, that hereafter post offices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sunday for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail.

"Under this law you will close the general delivery, carriers windows, and lock boxes and discontinue all deliveries by carriers on Sunday. You will note, however, that special delivery mail is excepted and you will therefore arrange to have on duty a sufficient force to handle this mail matter promptly."

This ruling, while giving the post office force more time off on Sunday, works a great hardship on the general public, and it is hoped the law will soon be amended.

Killed in Missouri.

James Quisenberry Squires, 18 years of age, and second son of Wm. H. Squires, formerly of this county, was struck by a train near his home in Cameron, Mo., on August 17th and instantly killed. He was returning home from church alone, and just how it occurred no one knows, but the body was in no way mutilated. He was a grandson of J. M. Quisenberry, near Ewington, this county, and has other near relatives here.

The family, both in Missouri and Kentucky, are prostrated with grief over the tragic and untimely end of one so dear to them. The many friends in this and other States will learn with regret of the death of this bright, handsome and promising specimen of young manhood.

Earl and Miss Emma Quisenberry (uncle and aunt) hastened to Cameron and were there for the funeral and burial. The former returned the 22nd, the latter will remain a number of weeks.

Nice Peaches.

We are indebted to our friend, Mr. J. T. Wade for a nice sack of peaches, as fine ones as it has ever been our pleasure to enjoy. Mr. Wade always remembers his city friends with remembrances of this kind.

Prewitt Reunion.

A large number from here will attend the Prewitt reunion which will be held Thursday at Oil Springs. These family gatherings are held each year and are the source of much pleasure.

Brick Street Hearing

Again Postponed.

The hearing of the motion to dissolve the injunction in the brick street controversy was again postponed until next Friday when it will be heard at Frankfort.

Judge Lewis Apperson and John A. Judy represent the plaintiffs, while W. C. Hamilton and W. B. White, represent the defendants.

Worth Yancey Succumbs.

Mr. Worth Yancey died at his home in Lexington Monday after a long illness. He was formerly a star football player at old Kentucky University and was a member of the same team which Mr. Lois Thompson of this city belonged to. He was well known here where he had many friends who will learn with regret his death.

Colored Fair.

The colored folks of this city will hold a fair at the Montgomery County Fair Grounds Sept. 26, 27 and 28, 1912. Everything is being gotten in readiness for the occasion and the best fair ever pulled off by the colored population in this city is being looked forward to.

Winchester Masons Celebrate.

Tuesday was a big day in Masonic circles in Winchester, the occasion being the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the chartering of Winchester Lodge No. 20 F. and A. M. An attractive program was carried out.

Noted Mason Passes Away.

Capt. H. B. Grant, of Louisville, recognized throughout the United States as an authority on military tactics, Masonry and the Methodist church, died at his home in Louisville Monday morning.

Winchester Court.

A large crowd was in town Court Day and trading was very brisk. There was about 1,000 cattle on the market at Hamilton's Stockyards, 800 sheep and 2 carloads of Western horses.

MADE SURE OF DEFENSE.

A California paper has published several anecdotes about the late Dennis Spencer of Napa, who was noted as a law-maker, orator and lawyer. The following story is one: One day there entered his office in Napa a bright-looking, well-dressed Chinaman. He took a chair and proceeded straight to the point: "You Mr. Spencer, the big lawyer? Yes." "How much you charge to defend a Chinaman?" "For what crime?" "Murder." "Five hundred dollars." The Chinaman said he would call again. A few days later he returned to Spencer's office, gravely placed $500 in coin on the desk before the astonished attorney, and said: "All right. I kill him." Spencer defended and acquitted him.

The Stoops ball team crowned itself with glory Sunday. In the morning they went up against a crack team composed of Gudgell Hill and Flat Creek players and won by the score of 9 to 6. The combination team used up three pitchers, while Doyle, the new pitcher tried out by Stoops, settled down to business after the 1st inning and "delivered the goods." In the afternoon Stoops played a double-header with a Flat Creek-Hinkston combination team. These two games were the best that have been played here this season. Stoops won the first game by a score of 4 to 2 and the second by a score of 3 to 2. Moore was in the box for Stoops, while Norris, of Owingsville, did "execution" for the Flat Creek-Hinkston team.

Sunday afternoon John Moore and Mrs. Ida Shultz, a prominent couple of the Flat Creek neighborhood, were married in Mt. Sterling by Rev. H. D. Clark. Their friends here extend congratulations.

A Test of Merit

Before purchasing Life Insurance a man should carefully scrutinize every proposition submitted to him.

"But I lack the time, and am not familiar enough with the technicalities of Insurance Contracts to make an intelligent selection," says the prospective buyer.

The "Standard Measuring Rod" used by the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of Worcester, Massachusetts, is a real test of merit.

It is easily applied, it is simple, and will therefore enable you to make an intelligent selection quickly. It is a real time saver. You are welcome to its use.

TO KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS.

(From Lexington Herald, August 12.)

It begins to look like there is a real chance to elect Hon. Ben V. Smith to Congress from the Eleventh District. The Progressives have put up a strong candidate in the person of a popular engineer of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, who will necessarily divide the Republican vote with Congressman Caleb Powers, who seems to have lost out with all factions because of his failure to please either and his inability to land any prizes for his constituents in the shape of offices. The people of his district have come to the conclusion that he is absolutely without influence in Washington and as a Kentucky Legislator once said of another "his people had just as well write a letter and kept him at home." At the last election Mr. Powers did not poll near the strength of his party, and this time he will fall short of his former vote. The Republicans no longer regard Mr. Powers as an asset but a liability, and think he has been "vindicated" sufficiently.

Conditions at present point to the election of Mr. Smith. He is popular with the Republicans and will draw many a vote from the conservative element of that party. The Democrats of that neck o' the woods are short of money, however, to conduct the campaign, which, in a district composed of so many counties and requires much money for necessary expenses. In order to raise a fund Colonel Woodson May, State District Committeeman, editor of the Somerset Journal and manager for Mr. Smith, announced that he will attempt to raise money for the campaign in his district by popular subscription of one dollar and asks that all who want the Democrats to succeed in that stronghold of Republicans will send him that amount each. The effort is commendable and the contribution will prove an excellent investment. It is hoped that all who read this article and who feel able to do so, will send Mr. May a check for at least a dollar and help the struggling Democrats of the Eleventh District to redeem it.

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep."—Mrs. Nancy M. Hanson, Hamburg, N. Y. 1m

RACE PROGRAM IS VERY STRONG

This Department of State Fair Under L. B. Shropshire Promises Big Interest.

THE SIX BIG STAKE EVENTS

Six Purse Events, Six Running Races, Gentlemen's Cup Race and Lady's Cup Race Among Star Features of Program.

From a racing standpoint, patrons of the Kentucky State Fair, the week of September 9-14, will be well provided for, as the program, which has been arranged by L. B. Shropshire, assistant secretary of the fair, is one of the best seen in Kentucky in years. He has arranged for six stake events for trotters and pacers, valued at $600 each, and, in addition, he has provided for six running races, one for each day of the fair, and a Gentlemen's Cup race and a Gentlemen's Riding race, the last-named two to be decided the closing day of the fair. Among the stake races will be one for two-year-old trotters, one for three-year-old trotters, one each for 2:18 trotters, 2:25 trotters, 2:13 pacers and 2:25 pacers. The purse events will consist of one each for free-for-all trotters, 2:18 trotters, 2:15 trotters, 2:20 trotters, 2:12 pacers, 2:17 pacers and one for free-for-all pacers.

During the past two years the racing feature of the fair has proved one of the most interesting of any attraction provided by the management, and because of that fact it became apparent to Secretary J. L. Dent that better facilities would have to be provided for caring for the patrons of that particular feature. With this idea in view, the very first contract entered into by Commissioner Newman and Secretary Dent was with contractors for the enlargement of the grand stand, and when the gates are thrown open the morning of September 9 just twice as many people will be cared for in the race track section of the grounds as formerly. The new addition to the grand stand will be of reinforced concrete, similar in every respect to the original part of the big stand, making it one of the largest as well as one of the most substantial grand stands in the country. Here can gather thousands of Kentuckians to renew old acquaintances as well as to witness the sport that is dearest to the heart of every native born son and daughter of the old Commonwealth. Unlike many of the race tracks of the country where trotting and running races are operated simply for the benefit of the track owners, the sport furnished at the State Fair can readily be designated as that of the "King of Sports" as the management of the fair has no idea of reaping any reward except that which comes from a good word passed around by its patrons. Therefore all races are decided strictly on their merits and in each instance the best horse wins. That some of the best horses in training on the tracks of Kentucky and other states will participate in the trotting and pacing events on the program this year is demonstrated by the fact that already owners have applied for stable room for the week and have made numerous entries to the stake events.

Under the arrangements provided by Assistant Secretary Shropshire one stake event and one purse race will be decided each afternoon during the week, in addition to which will be one running race each day. As all events for trotters and pacers, with the exception of the two-year-old events, will be three in five heat affairs it is needless to say that each afternoon will be crowded full of good sport for the fair patrons.

NEW JUDGING PAVILION

At the Kentucky State Fair, Louisville, September 9 to 14, inclusive.

A great improvement over former years, in the method of handling exhibits at the Kentucky State Fair, is the erection of a new pavilion for the judging of live stock. In this building all swine, sheep and goats will be judged. It will also be used for the Student's and Farm Boy's Judging Contest.

One side of the building will be fitted for swine and sheep judging arena, and the other for the Student Judging. In this way the public will have an opportunity of seeing and comparing exhibits in these departments with the same degree of pleasure and satisfaction as those who witness the contest for honors in the horse, mule, jack and cattle rings in the magnificent Coliseum or main building.

The new building will be well lighted, fully protected from sun or inclement weather, and will have seating capacity for all interested spectators. In short, it will be a miniature State Fair within itself.

Genius.

Progress is seen in masses, rather than in the highest individuals. Genius in one age is singularly akin to genius in another. This, for instance, is an era of feminine revolt, and yet one of the most moving expressions of woman's attitude toward a prevailing folly of man is in "The Trojan Women," and one of the most brilliant expressions of the same point of view is in the "Lysistrata." The charming heroine of Aristophanes' comedy lays down, in terms as fresh as yesterday, the truth that wars are usually brought about in order to give occasion for stealing, and when she is told that she cannot understand treasury matters, she asks, receiving no answer, wherein it differs from domestic economy and household finance. In the same comedy one might well be reminded of the United States, and of today, by the clamor for "a man" to lead the public; not men, not general wisdom, not superior legislatures, but "a man," one in individual, who can stand out and be dramatized. It is one of the never-failing charms of history that settings change but principles eternally remain.

Hives, eczema, itch or salt rheum sets you crazy. Can't bear the touch of your clothing. Doan's Ointment cures the most obstinate cases. Why suffer. All druggists sell it. 1m Opponent for Langley.

The Roosevelt followers of Kentucky are going after things right this fall and will make a hard fight in the Tenth district in the Congressional race. In the race they have launched a boom for "Parson" Hopkins, of the Sandy Valley, against Congressman Langley and will make him their nominee. He formerly served in Congress as a Republican and is one of the strongest men in the mountains. The Roosevelt following claim that there is considerable feeling against Langley among Republicans.

WILSON STANDS ON HIS RECORD

Josephus Daniels Invites Close Study of Writings.

SLANDER WON'T WIN NOW.

Chairman of Democratic Publicity Bureau Points Out Errors of Campaigns of Previous Years and Finds a Good Moral—Roosevelt Also Wrote Books and Made Bitter Attacks on Various Men and Classes.

New York.—Josephus Daniels, chairman of the publicity committee of the Democratic national committee, said today:

"Eight years ago during the presidential campaign of 1904 I came to New York, and, being a member of the Democratic national committee, I dropped in at the headquarters of the committee. I found the literary bureau of the committee very actively engaged in perusing the volumes of Theodore Roosevelt. When I saw on every desk 'The Winning of the West,' 'The Life of Thomas H. Benton' and a half dozen others of the works of the then Republican nominee for president I wondered whether or not I had got into the right place.

"I was immediately set aright, however, when I was informed that the literary young men were engaged in culling from those books some of the many denunciations and bitter criticisms and attacks made by Theodore Roosevelt upon public men and measures and his aspersions upon great representative bodies of our people, such as workmen and farmers.

"I found them preparing to send forth broadcast all over the land such excerpts from the writings of Theodore Roosevelt as:

"Cowboys are much better fellows and pleasanter companions than small farmers or agricultural laborers, nor are the mechanics and workmen of a great city to be mentioned in the same breath."

"Mr. Bryan and his adherents have appealed to the basest set in the land—the farmers."

"They (workmen who object to government by injunction) are not in sympathy with men of good minds and sound civic morality."

Hits Quakers Too.

"They quoted from what he said about the Quakers, that those who would not fight were traitors to their country."

"They said that when the farmers and workmen and the Quakers came to know what Theodore Roosevelt had written about them they would rise up with wrath and indignation and bury Theodore Roosevelt beneath an avalanche of votes. They said that Roosevelt would not answer that exposure of his views, and, of course, he never did. I agreed with them that it was the proper thing to do to herald these utterances through the country.

"As to whether or not that sort of campaigning had any effect the result of the campaign eight years ago speaks for itself.

"The Republican party is attempting to do today the same sort of thing that the Democrats tried in 1908. The Democrats out-Rodenberged Mr. Rodenberg. They were eight years ahead of him in this sort of thing. It didn't work with us then, and it will not work with them now.

Stands on His Record.

"The attempt to attack Governor Wilson because of certain statements which he made in writing history and in commenting upon events of history as they appeared to him as historian will fall signally. As one great metropolitan newspaper pointed out, Mr. Rodenberg and his kind are simply 'Blowing against the wind.' Governor Wilson is running for president on his record as a public man, and with that record the public is fairly well conversant, and it will continue to learn more as the campaign progresses.

"He is running for president on his record as governor of New Jersey—what he said and did in that capacity rather than what he wrote as a historian, chronicling events and commenting upon them as they appeared to an impartial observer whose duty it is to write of things as they are rather than as they should be or as he would have them.

"Our Republican brethren are entitled to all the thunder they can make out of Governor Wilson's writings. I hope they will read them carefully and thoroughly. They will be able to gain a great deal of valuable information, and when the context is read along with the excerpts which have been taken from his works for the purpose of placing him in a false light I have no fear as to the results. All that is needed is a thorough understanding.

"Ingersoll sought to disprove Bible truths and to assail Holy Writ by the same methods which the Republicans are seeking to assail Governor Wilson."

The average business man has awakened to the fact that it is a good investment to give some of his time to political affairs. This is one of Democracy's best signs of victory.

Perhaps the Republicans, as represented by Taft, are satisfied with the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. But the majority of the voters are not.

Shortening the Hours.

Modern conveniences and a new spirit have done much to make life on the farm pleasant. But the old is much yet to be done. A young woman of intelligence who lives on a model farm with her father was recently asked: "Do you like the farm?" There was a quick unconscious sigh as the young woman hesitated between loyalty and frankness. She was naturally domestic and by every instinct inclined to love the country. "Yes," she replied, "I like the country—and we have it quite convenient now. But we have got to get up at four in the morning and work until eight at night. I get awfully tired sometimes, but it looks like we just can't quit." There will have to be some way found to quit. That is the big reason why so many of the best boys and girls go from the farm and so few come back. Telephones, automobiles, pianos, books, community centers will not avail unless time is found to enjoy them. Years ago when prices were low it was often necessary for the farmer and all his family to work early and late to make a living and pay the mortgage. But with better farming methods and increasing prices that necessity is passing. The farmer and his family must be able to earn a good profit on ten or twelve hours a day. The time has passed when intelligent, ambitious people will be content, even under the favorable conditions of the great outdoors, to labor sixteen or eighteen hours a day merely to earn a living. It is good to work; but there must be time for mental and social improvement and for play. The city has laws against child labor. But the eleven-year-old farmer boy may be sent to the field to make a full hand. Women are not allowed to work in stores and factories more than eight or nine hours; but often on the farm they work sixteen or eighteen. The economic condition that compelled drudgery on the farm must pass; and then the new farm management must teach people how to live on the farm as well as how to raise crops.

New Moving Pictures of the Farm.

A fine smasher of old pictures is the college-bred farmer! You remember, of course, those hoary and pleasing lithographs showing the finding of the red ear at the husking bee, the barn dance, the "house raisin", the hayrack parties, the pumpkins yellowing between the corn rows, the beautifully built conical stacks of bundled wheat. Well, they are all headed for historical museum, and our college-bred farmers are posing for new moving-picture plays. In his cornfield in July or August, he swings with his harvester to cut green stalks. With his machine he does the work of ten men with corn knives. After it is cut the corn goes to a shredder, which husks the ears and grinds the stalks for silage—a first-class green winter feed for dairy cows. Pumpkin vines would become entangled in the machine, so they are raised in a separate field. Wheat stacks are gone because the ascertained losses between cutting and threshing from the stack are greater than the gain due to the stack-sweating process; and another pride of the farm—the man who could put up the most symmetrical pagoda of wheat bundles—is compelled to look for glory in other fields. For the young folks the town and city ballrooms are made available by improved roads and automobiles; they dance to the music of the same orchestra that plays for country club parties—so passeth the straw rides and the "grand right and left" under the barn lanterns. And all the college-bred farmer gets in exchange for the old farm traditions and romance is a bigger bank account, a more wide-awake existence, bath-tubs and sleeping porches, demonstration trains, a scientific acquaintance with the soil, a knowledge of cost accounting, and a few other things like rural free delivery, long-distance telephone service, the same old tan, fresh country eggs, and good health. Before you put your talented son into a law school, a medical school, or a dental college, spend some time investigating the agricultural college. You'll find that men are beginning to brag about sons who have gone back to the land and made good. We'll have a farmer President one of these days, too.

FAIR IS UNDER TWENTY HEADS

Kentucky's Big Show Is Divided Into Departments Under Efficient Chiefs

THE ORGANIZATION IS IDEAL

Member of Board of Agriculture to be in Charge of Each Branch of Work Assisted by Competent Superintendent.

Twenty departments have been arranged for at the Kentucky State Fair this year and each department will be presided over by a member of the State Board of Agriculture, and in addition to the various departments having the personal supervision of a member of the board each has been provided with a competent superintendent, thus insuring to exhibitors and visitors alike careful attention. The following is the manner in which the departments have been arranged and the member of the board and the superintendent in charge of each: Horses, Commissioner J. W. Newman, member in charge, R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg, superintendent; Mules and Jack Stock, James M. Terry, Cynthiana, member, Guthrie M. Wilson, Bardonia, superintendent; Beef Cattle, R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield, member, W. R. Moorman, Jr., Glendean, superintendent; Dairy Cattle, M. A. Scovell, Lexington, member, E. A. Farra, Nicholasville, superintendent; Swine, J. L. Lettler, Harids Creek, member, L. C. Owings, Jeffersonton, superintendent; Sheep and Goats, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, W. T. Chilton, Campbellsville, superintendent; Poultry and Pigeons, J. W. Newman, member, J. L. Gribble, Louisville, superintendent; Vegetables and Melons, J. L. Lettler, member, Charles Scholtz, Jr., Louisville, superintendent; Field Seed and Grain, G. N. McGrew, Bayou, member, H. C. Lovelace, Boston, superintendent; Tobacco, James M. Terry, member, Judge Frank P. Seebree, Carrollton, superintendent; Horticulture, Fred R. Blackburn, Stanton, member, W. H. Clayton, Hebron, superintendent; Woman's Department, G. N. McGrew, member, Mrs. H. S. Vansant, Frankfort, superintendent; Farming Implements, R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield, member, F. M. McKee, Versailles, superintendent; Forestry and Minerals, Fred R. Blackburn, member, George S. Lee, Carrollton, superintendent; Students Judging Contest, J. W. Newman, member, Prof. J. J. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent; Education, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, Mrs. John L. Woodbury, Louisville, superintendent; Dairy Products, Fred R. Blackburn, member, Prof. J. J. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent. For the department for plants and flowers C. R. Van Meter, of Lebanon, will be the member in charge and he will also be in charge of the racing department, while in the dog department Prof. M. A. Scovell will be the member having direct supervision.

Already the members in charge of the various departments as well as the superintendents have gone to work to assist Secretary Dent and Assistant Secretary L. B. Shropshire in arranging for the exhibits in their departments and from now until the gates are thrown open to the public the morning of Monday, September 9, these officials will be kept busy completing the details for the big show.

BENCH SHOW A FEATURE

Of Kentucky State Fair—Will Probably Be Greatest Dog Display Ever Seen in State.

Perhaps the biggest and best dog show ever seen in Kentucky, will be witnessed at the Kentucky State Fair the week of September 9-14. Heretofore the dog show feature of the State Fair has been confined exclusively to collies, but this year the management has decided to have a bench show for all breeds of dogs, and to that end dog fanciers throughout the state have been invited to participate in the show. Since the invitations were first issued by the management through the press several weeks ago many of the fanciers in every section of the state have joined the movement to make this feature of the fair a success. It is doubtful if there is a breed of dog known to this section of the country that is not bred and raised in Kentucky, and it is the purpose of the officials of the fair to have every breed represented. For several years the breeders of dogs, other than collies, have endeavored to interest the management of the State Fair in a bench show that would include all breeds. The bench show will be under the personal supervision of a man who is well versed in the breeding of dogs, and valuable prizes will shortly be named to be distributed to the winners in the various classes.

The show will be held under the rules of the American Kennel Club. A bench show with the approval of the American Kennel Club will more than likely attract high-class dogs from New York, Chicago and all parts of the country.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH.

Mark vi, 14-29—Sept. 1.

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."—Revelation ii, 10.

TODAY'S STUDY includes John the Baptist's death. King Herod had put away his wife, and was living with the wife of his brother Philip—Herodias. John the Baptist in his preaching had referred to the fact that King Herod was living in violation of the Divine Law, and was likely to bring upon the people a war, for his wife was the daughter of King Aretas.

Herodias heard of John's teaching, and was both angry and fearful. Had Herod put her away, as would have been his duty, she would have been a disgraced woman, for the Herods were well known in Rome and elsewhere.

Herod feared John and feared the people who believed John to be a Prophet, but Herodias feared neither God nor man. In deference to Herodias' wish, Herod had John arrested, but even then he liked to hear John talk. All the more Herodias feared the influence of John. The King's birthday came, and she encouraged him to ask to the banquet his principal friends. She dressed her own daughter in the airy costume of the dancing girls of the East, and sent her in to dance before them.

So great a condescension implied that the King should make some return. He asked the girl what she should give her, promising anything, even to the half of his kingdom, and the child returned to her mother for instructions. Herodias had gotten Herod into her net. Now, in the presence of his friends, on his own birthday, at his own suggestion, he had obligated himself to do anything that might be asked. If the daughter demurred to ask for the head of John the Baptist, the mother probably told her that if John lived both of them would sooner or later be outcasts; that his death was necessary.

Bound by an Unholy Oath.

When the maiden made her request, the King was grieved, yet he felt himself bound to comply with his oath. The execution was accomplished, and the head was delivered to Herodias. Alas, poor world! How many are its snares of pride and fear and attempts to increase its pleasures and honors!

In a previous study we heard Jesus' words, that no greater Prophet than John had arisen. We fully agree that he was a Prophet of the Lord, and that he will have a great reward in the future; with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, he will come forth a perfect man, because he was found faithful, even unto death. He will be one of the class mentioned by the Lord through the Prophet David—"Instead of Tay fathers, shall be Thy children, whom Thou [Messiah] shalt make Princes in all the earth."—Psalm xlv, 16.

Those who selected our lesson text evidently overlooked the fact that John the Baptist is not one of the Church class referred to in the Lord's words, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." (Revelation ii, 10.) John will indeed get life everlasting as a glorious portion, but he will not be a member of the Bride class. This honor belongs to us since Pentecost. We quote St. Paul's words concerning the Ancient Worthies: "All these died in faith, not having received the things promised them," "that they, without us, should not be made perfect." (Hebrews ii, 13, 33-40.) We, the Church, called to be joint heirs with Jesus, must get our share of the blessing first, the Bride and the Bridegroom must be perfected in the First Resurrection before the Kingdom can be established, and before the blessing can go even to the Ancient Worthies.

Wherein is the Difference?

If John the Baptist was faithful unto death, wherein is the difference, and why should he receive an earthly reward and the Bride class receive the heavenly? There are several reasons for this. In the matter of justice God could not show any preference, but in matters of favor, as the Scriptures declare, He may do what He will with His own.

Nothing in God's promise bound Him to give John the Baptist a place in the Bride class. The Apostle Peter declares that God foreknew this class, predestinated it as a class from before the foundation of the world, and He is now making a selection according to principles, to determine who may be of this class. He gave no opportunity to John the Baptist to be of this class, but permitted him to die when he had accomplished the work intended for him. None can be of this Bride class who died prior to Pentecost, for there the Holy Spirit was first given, and without this none can occupy the place of, some; those under Moses and of his House were servants.

HE WAS VERY MUCH ALIVE

Old Laborer in London, Mourned as Dead for Weeks, Returns to His Home.

An extraordinary case of mistaken identity, resulting in a Lambeth man being mourned as dead, and an unknown stranger being buried in his stead, came to light the other day.

Several weeks ago Charles Herbert Skinner, an aged cab washer and laborer, sold up his home and went in search of work. His wife went into the workhouse. Three weeks later a man died in the Salvation Army shelter at Blackfriars road. He was "identified" as Skinner, and the body was buried in Streatham cemetery. Before the coffin was closed several members of Skinner's family satisfied themselves as to the identity, and took away the dead man's clothes. The "widow" then went to stay with friends. The other morning Skinner reappeared at Murphy street, where his sister-in-law lives, and, in this relative's own words, "frightened the life out of her." He told them he had tramped all round London, doing odd jobs. "I knew nothing of what had happened," he said, "but, having nothing to do this morning, I thought I would call and see how my wife was. I am very much alive."

"How did your baseball game come out?"

"They mopped the ground with us."

"I thought they would when I heard you calling them a scrub nine."

GOOD DIPHTHERIA REMEDY.

Take green copers (not slackened) and burn on a stove lid until it becomes of a yellowish brown color and can be pulverized. Take one level teaspoonful, the same of burnt alum (the alum should be taken off the stove just before it stops boiling as it is then stronger.) Put the above in an earthen bowl with one teaspoonful of sulphur, one teaspoonful of white sugar, the same of boiling water; let cool; put in a tight bottle and shake before using.

Directions—In extreme cases give one-fourth teaspoon every hour; keep outside of throat cool to keep down fever. (Ice water with saltpeper in is good for this purpose.) Change cloth every two or three minutes. To prevent diphtheria—Give one teaspoonful twice a day for one week every two or three months. People, while exposed, should keep taking the above.

NO OCCASION FOR ALARM.

"Mercy" ejaculated the woman who had just come aboard the train, "there's something moving around under my feet!"

"It's the southern extension of my dachshund, ma'am," spoke the passenger in the seat behind her. "I got him in here when the conductor wasn't looking. He's under these two seats."

HER DISCOURSE.

"My dear," mildly expostulated her husband, "I said only half a dozen words, and you have talked about them for forty-five minutes." "Well," snapped Mrs. Vick-Senn, "the preacher does that sort of thing every Sunday morning, and you never kick about."

WAY TO WIN.

CARRIED ON FATHER'S WORK

Mrs. Agnes Bruce, Daughter of Dr. Livingstone, Always Was Enthusiastic Over Africa.

Mrs. Agnes Livingstone Bruce, whose death is announced, was the elder daughter of Dr. Livingstone. Mrs. Bruce was born in Africa, at Kuruman, 64 years ago. When four years of age she was sent home to this country for her education, and on her father's return, after the famous journey in the Dark Continent, she spent a large amount of time in his company, traveling with him in Scotland and England. Her enthusiasm for her father's work in Africa was maintained all through her life, and it is matter for regret among those who knew her intimately, that a good deal of direct and personal information relating to the explorer and his work must now be lost, as Mrs. Bruce had not seen her way to record her impressions and reminiscences in any permanent form. Mrs. Bruce herself made six journeys to Central Africa and visited and explored the districts associated with her father's name.—London Evening Standard.

LESSON FOR ALL AMERICANS

Eloquent Words of Edward Everett at the Celebration of Washington's Birthday.

You have now assembled within these celebrated walls, to perform the last duties of respect and love, on the birthday of your benefactor. The spirit of the departed is in high communion with the spirit of the place—the temple worthy of the new name which we now behold inscribed on its walls. Listen, Americans, to the lesson which seems borne to us on the very air we breathe, while we perform these dutiful rites! Ye winds, that wafted the Pilgrims to the land of promise, fan, in their children's hearts, the love of freedom! Blood, which our fathers shed, cry from the ground! Echoing arches of this renowned hall, whisper back the voices of other days! Glorious Washington, break the long silence of that votive canvas! Speak, speak, marble lips; teach us the love of liberty protected by law.—Edward Everett.

ONLY ONE THING WRONG.

Marshall P. Wilder is responsible for a story which he says was told with immense effect by Lionel Brough, of a man who was very sick, and whose doctor told him that he had to change his mode of living, and prescribed "going to bed early, eating more roast beef, drinking beef tea, a month's rest at some quiet watering place, and just one cigar a day." A month later the invalid met the doctor and the latter complimented him on his improved appearance.

"Yes, doctor," said the patient. "I look better because I am better. I went to bed early, ate more roast beef, spent a month in the country, and took great care of myself; but, that one cigar a day nearly killed me, for I had never smoked before."

SHORT AND TO THE POINT.

A Kansas City young lady of few words went to a dentist to have a tooth extracted.

"Pull it!" she said to the dentist. "All right," replied the dentist. He applied the cocaine, adjusted his forceps and out came the tooth. "Want it?" he asked the young lady, holding the tooth before her. "Want it!" she exclaimed. "Want it! What for? Do you think I'm an Elk?"—Saturday Evening Post.

THE OLDEST LEGISLATOR.

The oldest member of the house of commons, and undoubtedly the oldest member of any deliberative body in the world, is Samuel Young, Liberal member for East Cavan. He is eighty-two years old, though one unacquainted with him would not think him over sixty. He made a half-hour speech in favor of home rule during one of the recent debates.—Philadelphia Record.

DON'T TALK OF IT.

"Do you believe the theory that doctors have a right to kill where they cannot cure?" "Haven't they always been doing it?"

USUALLY.

Willis—What position do you occupy in your household? Gillis—I am treasurer to my wife's social secretary.—Judge.

SHOULD BUY THE MORTGAGE

Wise Advice of Bill Jones to Friend Who Was Seeking Good Investment.

Bill Jones was a resident of Baltimore, who, notwithstanding an impediment in his speech, prospered in his business as a broker. He moved to New York city and prospered even more. A friend from Baltimore called on him one day, and, after some familiar conversation, remarked:

"I say, Bill, it seems to me that you stutter worse here in New York than you did in Baltimore."

"V-v-very l-l-likely; it's a b-b-bigger city." "But I say, Bill, you have made a lot of money here and I want your advice. I have sold almost everything I had in Baltimore and I have the cash in my pocket. I want you to tell me how to invest my money to the best advantage. I have even mortgaged my house and have the money here. What would you advise me to buy for a good, safe investment?"

"B-b-buy the m-m-mortgage," replied Bill.—Harper's Magazine.

TELEPHONE FOR THE MUTES

Curious Electrical Device That Enables Them to Communicate Rapidly at a Distance.

A curious electrical device called a "deaf-mutes' telephone" has been invented to enable those who cannot speak and hear to communicate rapidly, not only with each other, but with persons who can speak and hear, and are not conversant with the finger-sign language, says the Popular Mechanics Magazine, in an illustrated article.

"The phone" comprises an electrical keyboard, somewhat like that of a typewriter. It has, like a typewriter, the "universal system" arrangement of letters. This keyboard is connected by wire with an electric signal board which is the "talking machine" proper and consists of thirty-six incandescent light globes, each with a large letter of the alphabet or one of the nine numerals painted on the end of the bulb.

The person who wishes to talk presses the keys, spelling out the words as on a typewriter, the other person reading off the letters as they flash on the lamps.

MINE PONIES PROTECTED.

In 1908 F. A. Cox of England began his enthusiastic labors in behalf of the sadly ill-treated ponies of the coal mines. The lot of these poor, abused little creatures has been a sort of equine hell. As last there has been won for them by Mr. Cox and those who have been associated with him a bill securing the following provisions: (1) The numbering of every animal on descending the shaft. (2) No animal to be engaged over or under a certain age. (3) Limitation of hours of ponies' work. (4) A meal midway between the allotted hours of work. (5) Supply of water for every animal engaged. (6) Every driver to be licensed and registered and the time during which he is in charge of a specified animal booked to him. (7) Every injury to a pony to be reported, investigated and registered. (8) Periodical examination of all animals by veterinary surgeons appointed by government and invested with plenary powers.—Dumb Animals.

STUDYING POLAR NIGHT.

A great deal of scientific investigation, especially that of the atmosphere, is being conducted at Spitzbergen. The most recent acquisition to be established is a German research institution, and Drs. Rampp and Wagner have begun a year's work there in aerology and geophysics. A unique interest attaches to the observations of the upper air that will be made throughout the polar night.—Boston Post.

"THERE'S A REASON."

The Salesman—Plovers' eggs, madam? Just arrived. The Customer—Rather small, aren't they? The Salesman—Just a trifle, madam; owing to the coal strike.—London Sketch.

HIS TRADE.

"The man passing over there is such a time-server." "I despise that kind." "No reason to despise him. He is such a good clockmaker."

PAPERS ARE RUN FOR WOMEN

Writer in Atlantic Monthly Blames This for the Deterioration of Journalism.

During the past few years hundreds of journals have sprung up devoted to women's special interests. They are almost all of them showy, fragmentary, personal, concrete and emotional. It is difficult to find one that represents general or abstract interests. One of these journals, which boasts a fabulous circulation, is supported by its women subscribers and readers to oppose the larger interests of women in education, industry and political life. At least, if it does not oppose these interests, it does not aid them. Imagine a million German women sending the Kaiser one dollar and a half a year to induce him to tell them once a month to go back to their kitchens, churches and children.

The newspapers of America have steadily changed during the last three decades in the same direction. Editorial pages and news columns have been steadily modified in the direction of fragmentary, egotistic, personal and sensational, or at least emotional, appeals. These are the qualities of children's minds, and of undeveloped minds everywhere. The change is, of course, all a part of the larger democratic movement of our time, and many causes have contributed to bring it about. Had women not been so active, something of the same sort would have happened, but if women were all to forget how to read over night, there is little doubt that the newspapers would find it advantageous to print more statesmanlike editorials, and more general and abstract news.—Atlantic Monthly.

"QUITE LIKELY."

Reggy—I make it a point never to talk more than ten minutes with any one person.

Virginia Wise—So as not to tell all you know, I suppose.

BEAR MADE THINGS LIVELY.

When the Norwegian steamships Hercules, which arrived from the Orient in Portland, Ore., the other day, was riding out a storm in mid-ocean a big black Chinese bear belonging to the boatswain, who was bringing it over to sell, tore down the bars of the cage he occupied under the poop deck and proceeded to enliven things. One of the mates ventured into the part of the vessel where the bear had been imprisoned to ascertain the cause of the noise he heard. As he set back near the cage the bear, standing on its haunches, confronted him with open mouth, lolling tongue and outstretched arms. He fled. The bear followed him to the deck, but made no attempt to overtake him. For the next three days the bear enjoyed the freedom of the steamer, no attempt being made to capture him. He ascended the masts time and again. Finally he fell asleep on the deck one day and was secured and lashed tightly to a stanchion by members of the crew and dragged back to his cage.

THEN OF COURSE SHE SMILED.

The young wife, refused a new hat, bitterly complained that she had a lot to put up with. "Yes," replied her husband, "and if you knew how little I have to put up with you would not ask me to put up for a new hat."

BEST MAN.

"Junks is very much run down, so he is going to a doctor to have himself built up."

"Why not to an architect?"

HIS MEANING.

"My money is clean spent." "Not all gone?" "Not at all. I invested it in good paying soap."

FREE SHOWS WILL BE OF HIGH CLASS

Enormous Expenditures for Attractions At Kentucky State Fair September 9 to 14

THE FAMOUS LIBERATI BAND

Will Be Star Offering in This Amusement Provided for Both Day and Night—Autos Will Loop the Loop in Mid-Air.

Two things that are essential to the success of an educational and amusement institution, according to J. W. Newman, Commissioner of Agriculture, and James L. Dent, Secretary of the Kentucky State Fair, are inducements to draw exhibitors and attractions to draw the public. With this idea in view, the officials have set out to make it profitable to both exhibitors and patrons, and to that end nothing has been left undone that might add to the drawing features both from the standpoint of exhibitors and also from the public generally. Rich prizes have been named by the management to insure the greatest display of exhibits ever seen in any section of the south or west, more than $30,000 to be distributed to the successful exhibitors in the various departments.

As an evidence of their faith in the people of Kentucky to patronize an institution such as the State Fair has become, Commissioner Newman and Secretary Dent have gone to great expense in securing the greatest line of amusements ever provided for the people of Kentucky or the South. Liberati and his famous band, one of the greatest musical organizations in the country, composed of forty-two musicians and six soloists, has been secured at a big expense, and the music-loving public who attend the fair this year will have no complaint to register on this score. This noted organization will be heard in concert each afternoon and night in the big pavilion. For those of the visitors who would rather patronize the racing feature of the fair than the horse show, the management has secured another noted musical organization in the famous Day and Scally band, of Louisville, which will furnish the music at the race track on the grounds each afternoon during the week.

For the free attractions for each afternoon and evening the management has provided some of the most sensational acts ever presented to the public. Who in this section of the country has ever witnessed automobiles passing through the air at a height of sixty-five feet? For the first time in the South or Middle West, and one of the few times in this country, such an exhibition will be witnessed at the State Fair this year when every afternoon at 2 o'clock and each night at 8:30 o'clock two 1,200-pound machines will loop the loop from a tower at a height of sixty-five feet. This is regarded as the most sensational act ever contrived by the human mind, and just as often as it is attempted, just that often the exhibitors daily with death in mid-air.

At no time during the entire day will there be a dull minute for visitors. It being the aim of the management to provide such a line of attractions in addition to the regular line of exhibits that visitors for one day only can leave for their homes the same night, expressing the belief that they have been well repaid for the time and money spent in coming to Louisville for the one day. In order to please the one-day visitor the management has looked well to the daylight attractions, and the big $100,000 livestock pavilion will be the scene of much activity from early morning until late in the afternoon. Among the exhibits to be seen in the pavilion will be the horse show, which will be given from 10 o'clock each morning until 4 o'clock each afternoon, permitting visitors to see the last ring of the day and get to the depots in time to catch their trains for home, none of which leave the city earlier than 4:30 o'clock.

This great exhibition of livestock in the pavilion, coupled with the races and open-air attractions in front of the grand stand each afternoon, makes the free attractions the biggest and best ever presented to the people in this section of the country.

MODEL SILO AT STATE FAIR

A model concrete silo has been constructed at the State Fair and will be in readiness by the time the great event opens in September. It is proposed to have it filled with corn, ensilage, sorghum and other green feeds, thus affording students of agriculture, farmers, stockmen and all others interested an opportunity of seeing in operation one of the greatest feed-saving and nourish-preserving devices ever used on the farm. It is a beauty in construction, and is in keeping with the dignity and rich appearance of all the permanent buildings on the grounds.
